Health Services Offered at Center, Director Explains

All full-time BJC students are offered medical services at the college Health Center here on campus, according to Dr. Bruce C. Budge, director of the Student Health Center, 209 Sherwood. The cost of these services are paid for in the $3.50 medical fee.

The office opens at 8:30 a.m., and the nurse is available from 8:30 until noon, Monday through Friday. The doctor is in his office from 8:30 a.m. until 9 a.m., Monday through Friday. They are unavailable afternoons, weekends, or school vacation days.

Inoculations Given

Flu vaccine is available at the center for those who have not been inoculated. Protection requires two visits, or one booster shot for those immunized last year. The charge is 40 cents. Also, oral polio vaccines are available for those students who have not received their immunization. Vaccine charge is 95 cents for each dose.

For medical exemptions from P.E. activities, the student must see Dr. Budge, who will file a medical P.E. waiver with the Registrar's office, according to Mrs. Alice Hatton, registrar.

Student Body Vice President Frank Franz, who is in charge of the election, says, "We hope this year's freshmen will rack up a record number of votes signifying their interest in campus affairs."

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

Freshmen can vote Friday in the SUB from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for their class candidates.

All men students will cast their votes next Monday for Homecoming Queen, from a field of 20 contestants. Her Majesty of 1964 will not be revealed until Friday night at the Homecoming dance.

BURNING OF THE 'B' TO KICK OFF HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES THURSDAY

By JIM DICKEY
Homecoming Editor

Kick-off for the 1965 version of BJC Homecoming will be the "Burning of the B" by the Intercollegiate Knights who will be stationed on Table Rock, at precisely 7:30 next Thursday evening. The flames atop the mountain will touch off the stadium pep rally.

The bushiest male student to grow a beard since official shave-off time will be chosen and crowned "King Beard" by members of the Valkyries. And men students will vie in the traditional pie eating contest.

Friday Pep Parade

Pep Parade chairman Bruce Storey, IK Duke, has announced that car decorations will be distributed before the Friday noon pep parade. All participants in the parade should be lined up at 11:30 Friday a.m. on Campus Drive in the "U" and the parade will be moving promptly at 12:05 p.m.

Additional late model convertibles are needed for the Queen candidates for the parade. Those having information are asked to leave their names in the Vice President's office.

Homecoming Dance

The big Homecoming dance on Friday in the gymnasium will be semi-formal, Marilyn McKean, Homecoming general chairman announces. The AWS will sell mums during Homecoming week to be worn at the dance and at the Saturday game, BJC vs. Idaho Frosh, at 8:15 p.m.

'Pop Art' Is Topic At Friday Night's

BJC's new Art instructor, Mr. David Oravez, will speak tomorrow evening on "Pop Art" at the Discussion Group meeting in the home of Don Yount, 1226 Belmont Street. The informal student group, reorganized for this year, is open to all students interested in current affairs and cultural topics related to the college student.

Various members of the faculty and other speakers will guide these discussion sessions, held fortnightly in the homes of participants.

Last meeting's speaker was Mr. Martin Scheffer, who presented ideas on "Conformity Today." Refreshments are served at the conclusion of the sessions.

NEW STUDENT SENATE OFFERS WIDER REPRESENTATION; GOTTENBERG EXPLAINS OPERATIONS AT INITIAL MEETING

History was made at BJC last week as the first Student Senate meeting, attended by representatives from all campus organizations, inaugurated a modern form of student government for this college.

Mr. W. L. Gottenberg, Student Senate advisor, explained that the Student Senate was in its tryout year to achieve a better representation. This will be achieved with all of the clubs being represented instead of only elected representatives. The clubs will act in advisory capacities while those elected class representatives will be allowed to vote.

Second Symposium Set

On Nov. 13 the second Business Symposium will be held in Boise, sponsored by the Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce. Five faculty members and 25 student leaders from Boise Junior College will attend. Mr. Gottenberg announced that Miss Patricia Ourada, Mr. Ralph Telford, Dr. Robert Rose, Mr. Laird Noh, and Mr. Martin Scheffer will each select six students. Mr. Gottenberg will choose 20 from this list, and the Student Senate will vote for the other five. Students chosen will be asked to fill out a questionnaire pertaining to various economic problems.

Student Body President Craig Heilman announced that those who would like business discussed at meetings must submit it to him or a student body officer, by 5 o'clock Monday in order to be included on the agenda. This agenda will be posted on the bulletin board in the administration building preceding each Senate session.

Practicing Democracy on Campus

In our fair land it is everyone's privilege to exercise the right to vote. It is apparent, however, that most Boise Junior College students are unaware of their collegiate rights. This was demonstrated by the fact that only 350 college men and women on campus expressed their voting preferences in the first election of the semester.

Could it have been because of the complicated voting procedure in which one had to show an ID card and put a line in a small square? Lack of transportation could not have been a deterrent factor, as the SUB is within walking distance of everyone.

We think it is good practice to concern one's self with campus elections—if for no other reason than to start a lifelong habit of taking a stand on issues and voicing an opinion, via the ballot box. Perhaps this could be a project of all the clubs and organizations, to help get out the vote.

Serious consideration also might be given to installing a voting place in each major building to make it easier to vote for the working student and others who haven't the time to get to the SUB.

We can just hear the screams of protest, if the students' rights of representation were withdrawn. An election which draws a mere handful of votes is a disgrace. It would be regrettable if the various class posts were all made appointive, due to lack of student interest in elections. The non-voters would be the first to exclaim: "It's undemocratic!"

Considering Campus Clubs

Now is the time for all good college men and women at BJC to come to the aid of their school—and pledge a service club. These organizations are necessary and an integral part of the functioning of the school, and a new pledge class is necessary each semester to help keep this area of activity alive.

However, we hope that these new pledges will be spared some of the extreme, sometimes silly, sometimes undignified duties imposed under the guise of pre-initiation fun—but which can bluntly be called hazing. Making public spectacles of pledges is no longer considered college level "fun."

The requirement of minimum GPAs before club members can be initiated is a real step forward. Let's hope we're spared from distracting costumes in classes, unique vegetable jewelry and weird getups. The semi-barbaric rites in conjunction with initiations have all but disappeared.

May these service club pins this year signify just that SERVICE.

WORDS WORTH REPEATING . . .

Librarian Sets Control System Beginning this school year the David O. McKay Library has instituted a program whereby all materials leaving the library will be examined by an exit control clerk. This program is designed to protect the book collection by preventing library materials from leaving the building without having been properly checked out.

The exit control clerk will examine all materials—books, briefcases, zippered cases, typewriter cases—that patrons are taking out. He will initial all library charge slips in the books that have been properly checked out as the patron leaves the building.

This examination of materials leaving the library is not to discourage use of materials outside the building but to enable the library staff to know where all the materials are.

With the increased enrollment and use of library materials it has become necessary to allow periodicals overnight circulation only. This will facilitate the usage of periodicals by more students. Reserve materials that are on a less than two hour basis will not be allowed to leave the building until charged overnight.—From the Ricks College VIKING SCROLL.

If you're one of those who thinks that "they don't make athletes like they used to," take heed of this note in the October Reader's Digest: Of all Olympic track or field champions prior to 1932, not one could even qualify for a place in this year's games on the basis of his winning performance.

During the first decade antibiotics were in use in this country, death rates from tuberculosis, syphilis, dysentery, scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough and meningitis decreased 56 per cent, according to a Federal Trade Commission report quoted in the October Reader's Digest.

Editorial Sallies

The new Senate system of student government at Boise Junior College is the result of long range planning and a lot of hard work. Originally the idea of Mr. Gottenberg, Vice President, this form of student government is necessary because BJC now has such a rapidly increasing Student Body that a broader representation is needed, not only of the elected ASB officers, but of all student organizations.

A college changes constantly to fit the growing needs of the campus and students. Every time a new building is added, procedures change. This constant up-dating and ever-changing process is a part of every modern campus.

Due to its large size, the Student Senate is meeting now in the SUB ballroom. It is to be hoped that this large turnout of representatives will continue. This is YOUR government, and it is up to the students to make it the best.

Speaking of systems, what about our nominations assemblies? The last Freshman officers nominating assembly, held in the SUB during the morning break, was nothing but chaos. As usual, the PA system did not work and neither the officers on the balcony nor the (more or less) assembled students on the floor could hear anything. We suggest that these assemblies should be conducted in a more dignified and orderly fashion in such surroundings as the Music Auditorium. The SUB is certainly not conducive to business-like sessions.

CAMPUS BEAT

Last year's ROUNDUP EDITOR, Ken Urness, and Jock Loucks are roommates at the University of Oregon in Eugene.

Editor of the year before, Judy Berry, is a senior at U of I, and writes the school news for The Statesman. Everett Reagin, Les Boys editor of 62-63, visited the new Publications office before returning to the U of Missouri School of Journalism, where he is a senior.

Something new was added during the summer. Mr. Smalley's foot cast, and the gloves long worn collected by Mr. Charles Davis.

If Robin Hood had any more trouble stringing his bow, some of the crows in the P.E. Archery class, it is doubtful that he could ever have robbed the rich.

That pile of rocks by the library is surely tempting to those trying to study who are distracted by noisy, talkative students.

Mr. Telford, new International Relations teacher, is seen whizzing to and from classes on a gold multi-gear Schwinn racer, anticipating our editorial of last week, no doubt. Dean Wilkinson still travels on two wheels, motorized type.

Being wise to the ways of students after all these years, President Chaffee requested that only sturdy plants be installed in the low planters on the new Library terrace. We don't know which are the prettiest these fall days—the brilliant hued flowers or the current coed crop in their new fall outfits. (This is not a commercial.)

Transcript of one of Lon McCall's advertising calls:

Lon: "Hello. This is the BJC."

And Here We Have

Mrs. Ada Hatch, head BJC Humanities Division, considered by her students the best teachers I ever met, not the best. Prior to years of dedicated teaching at BJC, Mrs. Hatch taught at high school alma mater in Blaine, after obtaining her degree in English from the University of Idaho. She is one of the original teachers at St. Margaret's predecessor to BJC.

Her specialty is Humanities with emphasis on English literature and mythology. She is a soul of Rousseau and retreats back to nature in her family cabin on the banks of the Payette River. Her husband, Clark, built the cabin as well as a goodly portion of the Boise Valley community buildings.

SPELLBOUND STUDENTS HELP AT PERFORMANCE

Students tried out the experience of hypnosis recently when the famed Dr. Kit performed in the auditorium. Although the audience was disappointingly small (approximately 100), the response for volunteers was enthusiastic. Out of 20 volunteers, the field was narrowed down to eight, which included Marilyn McKean, Russ Higgins, Carol McDonald and Kirby Holstrom.

Dr. Kit gave the subjects tasks ranging from heat driving to our rising sensations of heat and cold and suggestion reactions. That hypnotic vibrations of childhood fantasy were also used with a very funny effect.

During the season meeting for students, faculty and staff interested in the red-blooded American sport of skiing are invited by Mr. E. Allen Weston, new advisor of the Ski Club, to their first meeting Friday at 4 p. m. in the room 106. On the agenda are election of officers, instruction, carnival and snow.

THE BON MARCHÉ

"Good Holiday" fashions are featured in fashion at the BON MARCHÉ this fall. Pullover sweaters with turtle, round, or V-neck are the perfect companions with straight or pleated skirts for the cool days which are ahead.

For the evening games why not put on high points or capris with a smart-looking blazer to match? But do you think of the new and sexy instead of the traditional blouses and reds? Tomorrow, yellows, pinks and aquas give a feminine look to any outfit.

With almost any dress a beautiful white sweater by WHITE STAG will make you a standout as well as keep you warm for the chilly days on campus. Top your new Holiday outfit with a pair of ski parka also by WHITE STAG which will help keep you warm on future cold days.

These new fashions would be perfect to wear to the after-game dances as well as on dates with your favorite guy.

BJC Aims for Third In Road Encounter

After two impressive home showings, Boise Junior College takes to the road this weekend as they meet Snow Junior College of Ephraim, Utah, in an Intermountain Collegiate Athletic Conference football game Saturday night.

Snow comes into the 1964 season with a 7-4 record from the previous year of play. The 1963 showing in the record books was considerably better than the Utah club's 4-5 record in 1962 when they unseated perennial ICAC crownbearers BJC for the league title.

Best of the Broncos

Sophomore halfback Junior Catron, who picked up 99 yards in 22 carries last Saturday in Boise Junior College's 41-0 win over Mesa, was picked as the top back in that game by the Boise Quarterback Club. Barry Roesner and Mickey Cole, both ends, were tied in the voting for outstanding lineman.

COACH SMITH HEADS INTO 19th YEAR AT BJC; PERRIN SWELLS STAFF TO FOUR

By JIM POORE

Author, inventor, teacher and coach describe the newest member of the Boise Junior College coaching staff, Jack Perrin.

Perrin was born in Wood River Ill. in 1935, and comes to BJC from St. Louis where he has been coaching at the high school level. Perrin attended Wood River high school and during his junior year was voted the top prep back in Illinois.

After high school he went on to play football at Northeast Missouri State Teachers College where he was an All-Conference halfback. Perrin's wife, Lucita, is a French teacher at Boise High School. They have two small children.

The invention of the new coach is a "charge resistor" he invented and which is now on the national market after being sold to such schools as Indiana University, California, William Jewell.

Fleetball Plans To Be Set Tonight

Anyone interested in playing Intramural "Fleetball" is invited to attend a meeting tonight at 8 p. m. in the Boise Junior College Gymnasium, Jack Perrin, head of the Intramural program, announced.

To be presented will be rules on playing "Fleetball," a form of rag-tag football, setting up teams and outlining the schedules. Everyone (male) is invited to attend the meeting, and anyone not on a team will be placed, if possible, on a squad.

Teams making up the field so far are The Camel Back 68ers, defeated in practice games; Phi Sigma Sigma; The Driscoll Hall Dragons, led by the one and only "Scooter"; The Spartans of West Hall; The Section 14 Physical Education Activities; The Section P.E. class, and the Married Men, with a few single men thrown in. The deadline for entry is this Sunday.

Veteran Coaches

Lyle Smith heads into his 19th year at BJC as head coach, many several years lost on active duty in the Navy. He has rolled up an impressive record for BJC of 15 played football for the University of Idaho in 1936-38.

Ray Lewis, a former player under Smith, has been at BJC since 1956 as line coach and also handles the wrestling and track duties.

Dale Chatterton, who begins his third year as Bronco backfield coach, spent his college athlete's days at Idaho State. In the winter, coach "Chat" spearheads the Bronco basketball hopes.
